

Is Botox a good idea?

13th June 2002

When Christine Hamilton decided to appear on TV (Tonight with Trevor McDonald, ITV1, 7.30pm) undergoing a course of Botox injections, she claims her aim was to 'reassure millions of British women'.

'Every woman should have the right to look as good as she can,' she insists. 'I'm a perfectly average woman. I'm not vain.'

She's certainly not alone. Britain has been named as the leading country for cosmetic surgery in Europe. More than 20,000 procedures are carried out here every year.

And the most popular choice is Botox injections - used to combat facial wrinkles.

© Granada TV

Christine Hamilton has Botox injections in front of the cameras